Jon es un joven superdotado para las matemáticas y está obsesionado con la lógica numérica. Es un genio que por culpa de su esquizofrenia ha dejado escapar una prometedora carrera científica, teniendo que conformarse con trabajar en una tienda de fotocopias. Una noche, al salir del trabajo, Jon y su mejor amigo, David, se dirigen a una gasolinera para comprar bebidas. David entra en la tienda mientras Jon le espera en el coche. En ese momento se produce un atraco y David recibe un disparo que le deja en coma irreversible. Desde entonces Jon deja de tomar la medicación y, superado por la culpa, comienza a buscar un significado en el asesinato de su amigo.

Jon is a young man with a gift for mathematics and an obsession for numerical logic. He is a genius, but lost out on a promising scientific career because of his schizophrenia and had to settle for a job in a copy shop. One night, Jon and his friend David go to buy drinks at a gas station. David enters while Jon waits in the car. Just then, a robbery goes down and a bullet leaves David in a coma. Jon stops taking his medication and, overcome with guilt, he becomes consumed with finding some meaning in the killing of his friend.
