"Altamira. El origen del arte" es un documental, pero no solo eso, es un gran proyecto cinematográfico para "redescubrir" la llamada Capilla Sixtina de Arte Rupestre y contar la historia del descubrimiento de una cueva y unas pinturas que asombraron al mundo hace 138 años.

In 1879 the little girl María Sanz de Sautuola & Escalante and her father Marcelino discovered rock paintings in the caves of Altamira. The story, told through María's eyes by means of animation and 3D technologies, shows the life of human beings in Cantabria 14,000 years ago and delves into the mystery of artistic creation.
